The Importance of Dreaming

Are you a dreamer, or did you stop dreaming as the years of caring for others while building careers put your life on autopilot, or because life experience told you that dreams were not for you?

This talk is to inspire you to Dare to Dream Again by sharing how doing just that can add magic to your life. The magic of reawakening your heart dreams is the first step to your journey of self-discovery. A dream starts as the tickle of possibility that touches your heart and will, if you allow it, inspire you to take action to make that dream a reality.
